Rachmistrivka Rebbe Of Yerushalayim Spends Shabbos In New York

The Rachmistrivka Rebbe of Yerushalayim, shlita, currently visiting the United States, led an uplifting and inspiring Shabbos in Williamsburg. Thousands of local residents and many guests who came specially for the Shabbos attended the Rebbe's tisch on Friday Night — which ended shortly before dawn, as well as shalosh seudos, which continued for many hours into the night.

Upon his arrival in the U.S. on Wednesday, the Rebbe traveled to the Catskills, where his Uncle, the Rachmistrivka Rebbe, shlita, is spending the week. The father of the present Rebbe of Yerushalayim, the Rachmistrivka Rebbe, Harav Yisrael Mordechai, zt"l, had an remarkably close relationship with his younger brother, yblc"h the Rachmistrivka Rebbe, and this close relationship continues between uncle and nephew.

After a lengthy visit with his uncle, the Rebbe of Yerushalayim returned to Brooklyn, spending some time in Boro Park before traveling to Williamsburg on Thursday night.

One of the many inspiring facets of this Shabbos were the numerous signs of the legendary achdus that marks the Rachmistrivka kehillos: The Rachmistrivka Rebbe sent two of his sons, Harav Dovid Moshe Twersky, Rachmistrivka Rosh Kollel, and Harav Nachum Twersky, to spend Shabbos in Williamsburg with their cousin. A number of the Rebbe's grandsons, and a large contingent of his Chassidim from greater New York and New Jersey also came for Shabbos.

At the tisch, the Rebbe of Yerushalayim was flanked by a gabbai that accompanied him from Yerushalayim, as well as one of his uncle's regular gabbaim. Standing behind the Rebbe during the lengthy tischen were two of the directors of the Rachmistrivka mosdos in the United States, who played a key role in facilitating the visit of Rebbe of Yerushalayim. Even the huge wooden bleachers for the Chassidim to stand on during the tisch were brought from the Rachmistrivka shul in Boro Park to Williamsburg by Reb Levi Yitzchak Yakob, the popular shamash of the Rachmistrivka court, who personally oversaw their installation.

During his visit, the Rebbe of Yerushalayim attended numerous fundraising events on behalf of the financially struggling but spiritually flourishing Rachmistrivka mosdos in Eretz Yisrael, which includes Yeshivas Meor Einayim with over 400 bachurim, and kolle- lim in Yerushalayim, Bnei Brak, Beitar and Beit Shemesh. In addition to the large central shul in Yerushalayim, there are two Rachmistrivka shuls in Beitar, two in Beit Shemesh, and one in Bnei Brak.
